A BISHOP CHOSEN.

Dr. Nicholson Called to the Milwaukee Diocese.

VICTORY FOR HIGH CHURCHMEN

Notes on the Work of the New Head of the Episcopal Church in Southern Wisconsin—Strong Effort to Postpone His Election.

MILWAUKEE, June 18.—High church men triumphed in the election of a bishop. Rev. Dr. Isaac L. Nicholson, of Philadelphia, the candidate of the high church element in the council, was called to the Milwaukee bishopric late last night by a majority of two clerical and one lay vote. Eleven ballots were taken, the same number as had been necessary in the selection of the late Bishop Knight, three years before. The council during the day was at times stormy, but good feeling seemed to prevail, and high and low church lines were not closely drawn on the final ballots. The bishop-elect is at present at the head of St. Mark's church in Philadelphia. It is one of the most powerful and important in the United States, and has over 1,000 communicants. Dr. Nicholson is a graduate of Dartmouth college, and a native of Baltimore. He received his theological education at the Alexandria seminary, the seminary of what is known as the evangelical party of the church. While a young man he was employed in his father's bank in Baltimore and obtained a good business training. After taking holy orders he had a parish at Westminster, Maryland, and twelve years ago became rector of St. Mark's, where he has achieved a signal success. He married a Miss Elliott, of Baltimore, and has one son. Both he and his wife are possessors of fortunes which they have used generously. He is forty-nine years of age, five feet, eleven inches tall, and comparatively slender. Dr. Riley, of Nashotah, says he is a good preacher, and leader of men and has great administrative power, and tact. Dr. Nicholson was once elected bishop of Indiana, but declined after he was informed that some laymen had voted for him thinking him another Dr. Nicholson. Some years ago he was offered the presidency of Nashotah, but he declined this also.

Too Modest

To say much for ourselves, we have kept quiet the past year and "saved wood", but with springing grass and leafing trees we begin to feel as if it was the proper caper to blow our own horn a little.

You take a drive or walk thro' Glen-Etta and Riverview, and so along south thro' Carrington, Wheeler & Whitehead additions and you will wonder why we are so modest. We are now putting down 2,000 feet more water main, thus continuing our "Riverview" system thro' both of the other additions so that every lot on the three additions will have artesian water. Today there are in course of erection seven more new homes. Making in all TWENTY-FIVE homes within sixteen months. Our enterprises are no boom projects, they are just straight, plain business efforts, resulting in home building by home seekers.

If you keep your eyes open and watch Spring Brook and Riverside, you will also see there fresh surprises, hose additions are coming to the front.

If you seek a home, if you seek an investment, if you want ANYTHING in real estate, you are not in the right place till you see us. Yours very truly,
Geo. L. & Sarah H. Carrington.

SHOT HIS MOTHER-IN-LAW.

Brutal Crime of an Enraged Father at Frankfort, Ill.—John Duty Is Deported to the Custody of His Child by His Wife's Mother and Murders Her on the Highway.

BENTON, Ill., June 18.—John Duty, living about 6 miles north of here, committed a brutal murder Tuesday night on the public highway, killing his mother-in-law, Mrs. Allen. Duty was married and had one child, but had been separated from his wife. She and her child were staying with her mother, and Duty, after being away for some time, called Tuesday afternoon to get his child, which was at Mrs. Allen's, but she forbade him the house. He then came to town and sought legal advice as to his rights about the possession of his child. Returning home in the afternoon he met his wife, child and mother-in-law on the road and they had a quarrel and scuffle over the child. Finally Duty shot his mother-in-law in the face three times with a .38-caliber revolver, killing her almost instantly. He then tried to kill his wife, but the revolver would not discharge. Coroner Palmer held an inquest and a verdict was rendered by the jury in accordance with the above facts. Duty is still at large, but a posse is in pursuit of him.

MICHIGAN.

Proceedings in Both Branches of the Legislature.

LANSING, Mich., June 18.—A bill which recently passed the house fixed the specific tax to be paid by the railroads at 2 1/2 per cent. of the gross earnings when such earnings do not exceed $3,000 per mile, and 4 per cent when they are in excess of that sum. This rate would bring in over $300,000 increased tax annually. Wednesday the senate amended the bill by making the tax 3 per cent. where the earnings are not over $3,000, 2 1/2 per cent. when not over $4,000, 3 per cent. when not over $6,000, 3 1/2 per cent. when not over $8,000, 4 per cent. when above that sum. This cuts down by $175,000 the increased taxation. The world's fair bill, which was missing for several days, has been found and will be taken up to-day. Gov. Winans has vetoed the uniform text-book bill, which committed the state to publishing its own text books. The bill limiting fishing in all inland lakes to hook and line passed both houses.

HE IS NO MORE.

Ex-Gov. Ludington, of Wisconsin, Dies at Milwaukee.

MILWAUKEE, June 18.—Ex-Gov. Harrison Ludington died Tuesday night at his residence on Jefferson street. Had he lived until the 30th of July he would have been 80 years of age. A general breaking down of his system, the result of old age, was the cause of his death.

Harrison Ludington was born in Putnam county, N. Y., July 30, 1811. In 1838 he located in Milwaukee and became at once a prominent factor in the business interests of the then struggling young city. He was for years at the head of the extensive lumber firm of Ludington, Wells & Van Hook. He was for several terms mayor of the city, and in 1875 was elected governor of the state while serving as mayor. For some years he had lived a retired life, not having enjoyed the best of health and considering rest of more importance than political or other excitement. He leaves a large fortune.

IN DANGER OF FAMINE.

Germans Demand a Suspension of Excessive Corn Duties.

LONDON, June 18.—Advices from Berlin say that the price of corn continues to rise and that interests of the more densely populated localities the scarcity almost amounts to famine for the poor. A socialist meeting at Dortmund Tuesday night almost broke out into a riot, the people demanding the suspension of the corn duties so earnestly as to provoke the attention of the police. It is said that vast quantities of corn are stored at various places on the Russian frontier awaiting the lifting of the duties in order to enter the German market. Caprivi fears that this Russian corn would compete

STATE BOARD OF CONTROL.

Officers Elected and Cuts for Length of Term in Office Drawn.

MADISON, June 18.—The members of the newly appointed state board of control met in the executive office last evening and formed a permanent organization. After discussing preliminary matters, the following officers were elected: President, Clarence Snyder, of Ashland; vice president, C. D. Parker, of River Falls; secretary, A. O. Wilson, of Janesville. Cuts drawn to determine the length of the terms of office, resulted as follows: For one year, A. Graebner, of Milwaukee; two years, C. M. Luling, of Manitowish; three years, J. L. Cleary, Kenosha; five years, Clarence Snyder, of Ashland, and J. E. Jones, of Portage. The board then adjourned until July 1.

A FIENDISH ACT.

The Coon Rapids Railway Wreck Caused by Train Robbers.

COON RAPIDS, Ia., June 18.—The wreck of the Omaha express on the Chicago, Milwaukee & St. Paul railroad at Coon Rapids Tuesday night was caused by a tie fastened to the trestle work of the bridge-approach by train wreckers. The motive that prompted the crime was undoubtedly robbery but thus far no depredations have been reported. There is no clew to the perpetrators of the foul deed. At the place where the accident occurred the train was not running at its usual rate of speed and the light loss of life is due to this. The fact that so many of the passengers and trainmen escaped uninjured and promptly scrambled out of the wreck probably frightened the train-robbers off. The train consisted of an engine, mail car, baggage car, two coaches, one chair car and three sleepers and was well filled with passengers. It reached Coon Rapids at 9:45 o'clock in a blinding rainstorm. Three thousand feet east of the station is the little stream Coon creek, spanned by an iron bridge. The stream is an insignificant one, dry for portions of the year, but now swelled by spring freshets. Engineer William Liddell was in charge of the engine with Fireman Albert House. Two hundred feet from the bridge the engine struck the obstruction and left the track. Liddell reversed the lever and applied the air-brakes, but it was impossible to stop the train. The locomotive and mail car crashed into the covered bridge and, toppling over, fell to the bed of the stream, west below. The baggage car, day coaches, chair car and one sleeper fell from the side of the trestle and whirling over in the air struck the ground with trucks up. The train was electric-lighted and the added horror of a fire was thus probably avoided.

Those passengers who were not injured promptly began the work of rescuing their unfortunate fellow travelers, whose shouts for help could be heard from the wrecked cars. Word was sent back to the station at Coon Rapids, and all the physicians and able-bodied men who could be reached were summoned to the rescue. The train continued unabated and in the face of the blinding storm, aided by flashes of lightning and the lanterns brought from the station and adjacent farmhouses, the work was carried on. A special train with physicians and workmen was sent to the wreck from Perry, the eastern end of the division, upon receipt of telegrams announcing the accident. The list of killed and injured is:

Henry Candon, of Perry, Ia., killed outright; express messenger Aldrop killed outright; John McCarthy, of Danville, N. Y., fatally injured internally; R. W. Chambers, brakeman, left hip dislocated; William Larkin, brakeman, bruised; C. R. Cornelius, conductor, bruised and arm broken; Thomas James, electric light engineer, slight bruise about leg and hip; John Williams, baggage-master, head and legs bruised; F. E. Watson, station clerk, head and shoulders bruised; G. F. Mitchell, train dispatcher, spine and hip bruised; Oliver Douglas, fireman, side injured; Frank Smith, train news agent, slightly injured; William Worth, Decatur, Ia., three ribs broken, right leg bruised; Mrs. William Worth, Decatur, Ia., right arm and hand cut and bruised; William Langendorfer, Waterville, Me., internal injuries; Charles Barrett, Cincinnati, O., slight bruise; H. C. Blake, Mount Carroll, Ill., back bruised; Reinhart Kochman, Mount Vernon, N. Y., left clavicle broken and contusion of forehead and chin; Clarence Grace, Omaha, Neb., contusion of head, right leg and spine injured; James H. Grace, Chicago, sprained ankle and side hurt; O. B. Jackson, Boone, Ia., side and back bruised; Peter Goetzner, Montreal, Que., left chest bruised; M. Rust, Boulder, Colo., slight bruise.

Engineer William Liddell escaped without the slightest injury, although he was borne down in the crash to the bottom of the ravine and the cars composing the train were with two exceptions hurled into a wall of wreckage about the engulfed locomotive.

Old Conductors Discharged.

WATERLOO, Ia., June 18.—The Illinois Central has begun the wholesale discharge of passenger and freight conductors on the Iowa division of the four sections centering here. Twenty-nine are said to be marked for dismissal. One of the men discharged has been in the service of the company twenty-five years and two others nearly as long. No cause is assigned, the men simply being notified that their services are no longer required. It is supposed to be the work of spotters.

Principal of Downer College.

MADISON, Wis., June 18.—Miss Ella Sabin, superintendent of schools at Portland, Ore., has accepted the principalship of Downer college at Fox Lake. Downer college was formerly called the Wisconsin female college, but the name was changed at the request of Judge Downer, who left it property valued at $70,000 on such condition. Mrs. Downer also left the college a large bequest.

Collapse of a Projected Syndicate.

MONTREAL, Que., June 18.—A London cable dispatch says that the waterworks and gas-works company recently promoted for the purpose of purchasing properties in the United States and Canada, with a capital of $3,000,000, has collapsed. Sir Charles Tupper is one of the directors and was censured in parliament for being connected with it.

Survivors of the Blackhawk War.

GALENA, Ill., June 18.—Survivors of the Blackhawk war held a reunion in this city Wednesday. Only twenty-three of the pioneers who fought the Indians in 1832 are still alive, and of these sixteen joined in the day's celebration. An organization is to be formed for the purpose of securing pensions for the old warriors.

Parnell Must Pay $3,500.

LONDON, June 18.—Mr. Parnell has been ordered to pay $3,500 of the costs in the O'Shea divorce proceedings.

BEER FOR BELOIT.

It Can't Be True, but Police Are Investigating.

EXTRACT OF MALT BOTTLES SEIZED

Restaurant Keeps On the Ragged Edge Over the Action of Officer Webb—The Intoxicating Qualities of Summer Tonic Tested.

BELOIT, June 18.—A raid on malt extract sellers is the latest phase of Beloit's prohibition crusade. Officer Webb started it by calling for a drink of extract of malt in Jay Slater's "temperance restaurant." Jay passed it over to the officer. Webb took a sniff of the stuff, remarked that it wasn't malt, and asked to see the label on the bottle, which Jay immediately held up for inspection. A moment later Webb had grabbed the bottle and started out, Jay following as soon as he could get out from behind the bar. They met at the door. Webb being the biggest man pushed Jay back with his cane, and went down the street. Subsequently he went to George Moran's and bought another bottle. An examination as to the chemical composition of the contents is being made.

BOX CAR PATIENT DEAD.

TO-DAY'S ANNIVERSARIES

1650—John Hampden, English soldier of liberty, mortally wounded in Chalgrove Field, near Oxford.

1812—President Madison signed the resolution declaring war against Great Britain, which had received but a majority in the senate; the only New England vote for it was from Vermont.

1815—Battle of Waterloo: HAMPTON, about 80,000 men on each side at the start, the French and the allies with 150; Blücher's arrival with the Prussians decided the battle; French loss in killed and wounded, 20,000; allies, 23,000.

1835—William Cobbett, English political writer, died; born 1762.

1850—Steamer Orion wrecked at Port Patrick and 200 lives lost.

1866—The first national convention of the present Republican party met at Philadelphia; Henry S. Lane, of Indiana, presided; John Charles Fremont nominated for president and William L. Dayton for vice president.

1871—Death of George Groves, historian of Greece, aged 77.

1880—Celebration at Dresden of the 800th anniversary of the reigning family's accession.

1890—King Leopold of Belgium appointed Henry M. Stanley governor of the "Congo state."

NO "ORNAMENTAL" OFFICE.

D. L. Harkness, the new food and dairy commissioner, says he has his hands full and could find work for twenty men if they were furnished him. He will continue the work which H. C. Thom so well began of inspiring dairy men and farmers to unite work in the one direction of improving the product and so establishing a reputation for Wisconsin that will enable the producers to command the highest prices at home and abroad. Producers of food products in this state, not only of cheese and butter, but other articles, will not be allowed to obtain temporary profit by adulteration or placing on the market articles to be sold for anything else than just what they are.

It will not be forgotten that the office of food and dairy commissioner was one of the first that the democracy insisted must be abolished as it was "purely ornamental and created simply to provide a place for favorites." Commissioner Harkness is likely to be brought before the party tribunal if he doesn't stop spoiling good campaign thunder.

HE LAUGHS AT LOCKSMITHS.

The government money man is not so safe after all. There is a man in Tomahawk who, only a short time ago, opened the big vault in the sub-treasury building at Philadelphia, where $25,000,000 is kept, without knowing the combination of the lock, and without a tool of any kind in five minutes. The same man was taken on to Washington, and with an ordinary mallet opened the big vault in the treasury, where a great amount of money is stored. He is not a thief but a hard-fisted mechanic who has made a study of locks and safes, and makes more money in doing repairing than he could if he stole or made a business of robbery. He opened both vaults at the request of the authorities, simply to show how wretchedly insecure money is while locked behind old-fashioned doors and poor locks.

WHY I AM A PROTECTIONIST.

I am a Protectionist because I think by that policy the workmen of America will be well paid and not underpaid. Because I think by that policy the variety of industries will be created by which will make America strong in peace and in war.

Because the industries so fostered will develop the skill and brain power of my countrymen, and raise the people of the United States to the first rank in intelligence among the nations of the earth. Because that policy has already made us the richest and strongest nation on earth, and under a properly restricted immigration will bring to us much that is most valuable in the population of other lands.—George F. Hoar in American Economist.

The Oshkosh Northwestern thinks the scheme to loan the money in the government treasury to individuals on non perishable security is very crude. Why require the security it requires? That would be difficult for some people to get. Anybody who can get security can get the money on it now. The purpose of this scheme is to help the poor, and the man who has got plenty of security is not poor.

Hereafter Chinese entitled to enter this country or pass through it will carry certificates of identity. Now if this government will take a similar step and tag all the celestial entities to remain here it will not be so easy for the almond-eyed brown-hued men to skip across international boundary lines or smuggle themselves ashore at out of the way ports.

John Wanamaker has never found it necessary to defend his administration from the malevolent attacks of demagogues. His administration of the postoffice department is a sufficient defense. It has been beyond all question the best the country has ever known.

The agricultural editor of the Superior Telegram, thus imparts information to his succulent readers: "Watermelons and cucumbers have made their appearance in the market. They are easily distinguished apart, for the watermelons are much more costly."

The Chinese doctor who said he could cure a patient quicker for $10 a week than for $5, may not have been discreet in the admission, but he certainly was more frank than some of his brothers of the medical profession.

Twenty local newspapers in Kansas have become disgusted with the democratic bias of the alliance in that state and elsewhere and have returned to the republican ranks.

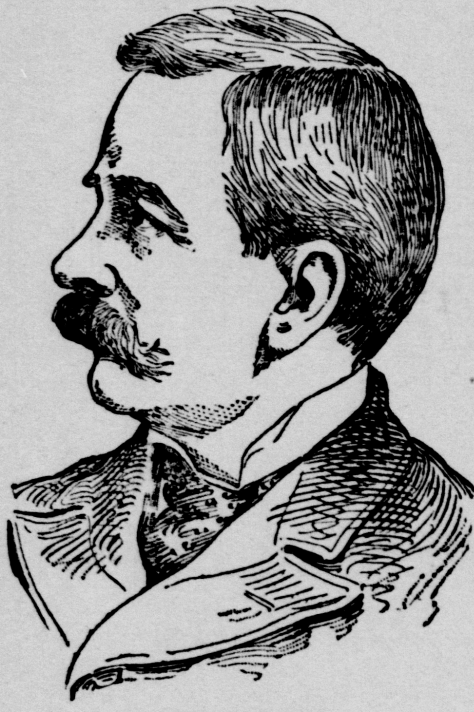

Rev. Sam Small has withdrawn from the Methodist ministry and yet no charge of heresy has been brought against him, though his financial orthodoxy has been seriously questioned by his associates in the University of Utah.

Major McKinley will be elected governor of Ohio, and his election will sound the republican bugle notes of victory for the national campaign of '92.

SOME WELL KNOWN FACES.

A Chicago Merchant.

MARSHALL FIELD.

Marshall Field, the merchant prince of Chicago, was born in 1833 in Conway, Mass., and began life as a dry goods clerk in Pittsfield at the age of fifteen. In 1856 he located in Chicago, where he rose steadily, till he is now worth $30,000,000, and the head of a firm whose sales amount to $35,000 a day.

WILLIAM AND HIS SMILE.

The Chicago Police Meet an Original Character in Overalls.

The most original character with whom the police have had to do for months struck town on Tuesday. His name is William Rexford, and he hails from a farm near Sioux City, Ia. William is a blonde faced, long eared country boy of nineteen years, wears blue overalls, a hickory shirt and an expansive, guileless smile. After leaving the train William bought a fifteen cent dinner, and then found himself penniless and alone in a strange city.

But William was not dismayed. He trudged along Milwaukee avenue, gazing at the sights and attracting no small degree of attention himself. He stopped to look in the window of George Toborg's gun store, then he grinned more broadly than ever and entered the store.

He priced several revolvers and finally selected a large double action one and said he'd take it. He also said he would take a box of cartridges, and started to load the weapon.

The proprietor anxiously interfered and offered to do the loading himself, fearful that this guileless country lad did not know how. Then Mr. Toborg explained how the weapon worked and handed it back to William with a "four dollars, please," smile, which made William grin broader than ever.

The two officers, with dark lanterns and cocked revolvers, searched the rear of the store for the guileless William, and then groped their way down to the basement. William was behind a post, revolver in hand. He received the officers with his habitual grin, and threw up his hands, remarking:

"Well, I'll be gosh darned!" William is lodging at the Rawson street police station, where he has already become a great favorite. He has confided to his new found friends that he thought it would be an easy matter to replenish his pocket-book in Chicago by holding up people. He said he was "down to Omaha" a couple of years ago, and "held up a well dressed fellow and pulled $500 outen his pockets."

"But," continued William, in smiling confidence and giving his overalls a hitch, "they ketcht me and sent me up for a year. Then I went back to farm!" On my way back to Chicago I stopped off for a week ag'n and had just fair luck."

William says he has no "pertickler" objections to going to Joliet "for a spell."

Good Looks.

Good looks are more than skin deep, depending upon a healthy condition of all the vital organs. If the liver be inactive, you have a bilious look; if your stomach be disordered you have a dyspeptic look, and if your kidneys be affected you have a pinched look. Secure good health and you will have good looks. Electric Bitters is the great alterative and tonic; acts directly on these vital organs. Cures pimples, blotches, boils, and gives a good complexion. Sold at W. T. Sherer & Co.'s drug store, 50 c per bottle.

MAKING KNIT FABRICS.

Free-trade and Free-trade journals are persistent in their utterances that the McKinley tariff will destroy American textile industries. If they can furnish no better evidence than that furnished by the knit underwear mills, then let us hear no more about the disastrous effects of a measure the beneficent effects of which are so clearly apparent. Contrast the present condition of the knit goods interest with that of a year ago. The enactment of the McKinley tariff was then in sight, yet its influence upon the future of this industry was already visible. Manufacturers saw that the administrative act would correct many of the worst abuses from which they had suffered so long, and that with the tariff bill passed, immediate relief from undervaluations would follow. A year ago not more than 60 per cent. of the present capacity for turning out underwear was in operation. At Cohoes, Amsterdam, Little Falls, Hudson City, and at various other places in this and other states, much machinery had been idle for three or more years, especially those mills that were equipped to make ribbed cotton underwear. This was due solely to the competition of great quantities of imported goods that were undervalued. And from the same cause the knitters of fancy cotton hosiery in Philadelphia became insolvent.

With the McKinley tariff in operation the first reappraisements by the board of appraisers demonstrated that the importations of knit fabrics of every description would be decreased, for though importers had advanced their foreign cost the increase was not enough. It is unnecessary to go into details as it is sufficient to know that through the operation of the McKinley tariff an unparalleled degree of activity has been infused into the knit goods industry.

The cry of the Free-traders has been and is that the poor man's wages have been decreased and the cost of his clothing has been increased. What are the facts? The poor man's cotton shirt and drawers, not costing in excess of one dollar and fifty cents per dozen, pay 35 per cent. ad valorem, the same as before the McKinley bill. Oh! the solicitude for the poor man and how it has been used to put eagles in the pockets of these importers that have expressed so much sympathy for the wage earner! No one doubts, and in fact it has been demonstrated by the operations of the McKinley tariff, that former importations were involved and classified as costing poor men's prices, the duties paid proportionally, but out of the customs, such goods were invariably sold at rich men's profits, though at less prices than similar goods made in this country were sold at. That's how the interests of the poor man have been protected by importers.

Under the old tariff wool and merino underwear paid ten cents, twelve cents, fifteen cents, twenty-four cents and thirty-five cents per pound, and 35 and 40 per cent. ad valorem, and so general were the undervaluations that it is not straining the truth to make the statement that not more than, if as much as, 60 per cent. of the duties were collected that such importations should have paid. This method of doing business was based on the solicitude for the poor man. With the merchandise released from the customs department, for spelling "poor men's goods" the Volapuk orthography was employed, and it invariably produced "importers' interest," and the goods were sold at rich men's profits. The McKinley tariff and the administrative act have rectified these undervaluations, yet if there has been any difference in prices for American goods they are not recognizable by consumers, if at the prices now current better goods are not now obtainable than ever before. This feature is due to the operation of the McKinley tariff and the increased production that that measure has stimulated.

The daily and weekly reports of the improved trade in underwear and hosiery are the best evidence of the beneficial influence of the McKinley tariff on this industry. Besides the records of the mills that were running full and have been enlarged; that were running half or less of the machinery and are now running full; that had been idle for three to six years and are now in full operation, new mills that have been built and put into operation and a larger number are in course of erection in different states.

In short, the McKinley tariff has stopped to a very large extent the undervaluations of foreign manufactures, and that has decreased importations; there has been an increased demand for American made goods that has quickened the starting up of all idle machinery and the building of many new mills. This has given employment to a very large number of operatives; raw materials have been required in greatly increased quantities, and in the finishing, ticketing, making up and other details an equal degree of life has been infused into many other departments of manufacture whose existence has been and is largely dependent on the production of underwear. Such are some of the benefits that have accrued to the knit goods industry from the enactment of the McKinley bill.

Who's "Got the Tin?"
 "The bold and bad, that tariff bill!"
 The Free-trade croaker cried:
 Then itemized so much of ill
 That all could see he lied.

The days passed on. That tariff bill
 Has proved a public boon.
 The croaker's feebly croaking still,
 But will be silenced soon.

CORTE'S REPORT.

What the Late Consul at New Orleans Says of the Recent Lynching.

ROME, June 18.—The Fanfulla states that Sig. Corte, late Italian consul at New Orleans, at the request of Premier Rudini, has prepared a report on the New Orleans affair. Sig. Corte affirms that the victims belonged to no particular society, but were murdered simply because they were Italians and were competing in the labor market against natives; that immediately after the murder of the Italian prisoners his American servants ran away and that he himself and his secretary barricaded the consulate and armed themselves with revolvers, the lynchers having threatened to attack the consulate, and being prevented only by influential citizens intervening.

The sentence was the first inflicted, owing to the many legal obstructions thrown in the way.

Dead on Her Wedding Day.

CHICAGO, June 18.—Dressed in her intended bridal robe, in a casket heaped with flowers, the corpse of pretty Katie McIntyre lay Wednesday night in the little parlor of 43 North Morgan street. It was to have been her wedding night. She was dead as the result of a dose of poison taken with suicidal intent because she could not make up her mind to wed the man she had promised, but whom she had been urged to engage herself to by relatives. Neither had she kept her promise to her would-be husband she took a dose of "rough on rats."

It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrup, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhoea and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."

Dr. J. C. Osoono, Lowell, Mass.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."

Dr. J. F. Kitchel, Conway, Ark.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."

H. A. Archer, M. D., 111 S. 3d St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

A SCROFULOUS BOY

Running Sores Covered His Body and Head, Bones Affected, Cured by Cuticura Remedies.

When six months old, the left hand of our little grandchild began to swell, and had every appearance of a large boil. We noticed it, but all to no purpose. About five months after it became a running sore. Soon other sores appeared on his body. He then had two on his chest, one on his arm, and one on his leg. The sores were very offensive. His head was very red, and he had a great deal of itching. He was very restless, and would not sleep. He was very thin, and his bones were very prominent. He was very weak, and would not grow. He was very ill, and we were very anxious for him to get well. We tried many remedies, but nothing did him any good. We then tried Cuticura, and in a few days he was much better. He was able to sleep, and his sores began to heal. In a few weeks he was completely cured, and his bones were no longer prominent. He was very healthy, and was able to play like other boys of his age. We are very grateful to Cuticura for curing our little grandchild.

MANY DROWNED.

Disastrous Effect of a Waterspout in Mexico.

TWENTY-THREE LIVES LOST IN A MINE

The Town of Casey, In., Inundated and Two Girls Drowned—Lightning Fights Two Victims in Pennsylvania.

WILD RUSH OF WATERS.

CITY OF MEXICO, June 18.—A waterspout in the mountains in the neighborhood of the San Luis Potosi silver mines caused great loss of life. The latest telegrams from San Luis Potosi place the number of bodies recovered from the flooded mine at twenty-three. So far thirty persons are known to have been hurt. Work at the Conception mine is entirely suspended. The personal loss will be heavy.

DE MOINES, Ia., June 18.—Reports from all over the state show that the rain has been extremely heavy and some damage and loss of life are reported. The Rock Island railroad was washed out and trains delayed. The town was inundated and two girls are reported drowned. Lightning struck the insane asylum at Clarinda, but little damage was done.

OMAHA, Neb., June 18.—The heaviest rain known for years fell Tuesday night all over the state. Along the line of the Burlington, Missouri & the great St. Louis & North Western, several washouts resulted, the most serious being in the vicinity of New Orleans. Several small washouts occurred on the branch line between Orleans and Oxford. Trains on that branch are delayed and some have been abandoned altogether. The Elkhart and Battle Creek, inundated the town, sweeping away several houses and endangering a number of lives. All in danger were helped out in wagons and no lives were lost. The town is half overflooded at present and people have to go about in boats. It is thought that the mill dam will go, and large damage has already been done to crops. Several miles of track have been washed out and several bridges, which will delay trains for two days. At Oakdale the precipitation was 5 inches. Cellars are filled, sidewalks are gone and 300 feet of railroad track is removed, with one bridge, near town. The damage to crops is not known. At Dunlap, Washington, a farmer, a farmer, was killed by lightning, as was also the team which he was plowing.

PALMER, Neb., June 18.—During the thunderstorm Tuesday the wife and grandmother of V. Lauson took two children and went with them to a storm-cellar near their house to avoid the lightning. During the storm the cellar collapsed, and both the women, but did not hurt the children. Mr. Lauson was not at home at the time of the accident and the bodies were found cold and stiff two hours after the storm.

KALAMAZOO, Pa., June 18.—A hail and windstorm of unusual severity passed over a portion of Berks county Tuesday night. At Bernville several farmhouses were struck by lightning and slight damage done. All around Bernville hail fell as large as shellbarks and some of the fields were covered to the depth of several inches, while the country presented a winter scene. Trees were uprooted, telephone poles prostrated and fences carried away and apple and other trees stripped of their fruit and cornfields devastated. Near Douglassville, this country, a barn belonging to John Boyer and several others were uprooted. At Minersville Mrs. David A. Jones was struck by lightning and is still paralyzed from the shock.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., June 18.—Three hundred acres of celery ground was flooded from 1 to 4 feet deep Wednesday night by the race from the paper mill breaking as a result of heavy rains. All the south part of town is flooded. Houses were removed from their foundations and can be reached only with boats. The celery will be ruined if the water remains long on it.

Will Meet Next in America.

VIENNA, June 18.—The universal postal congress in session here has selected the United States as the country where its next meeting is to be held, and Washington, D. C., as the city. The next congress will assemble in 1897. The motion was passed at the instance of Messrs. Brooks and Potter, the American delegates.

Needs a Guardian.

KALAMAZOO, Mich., June 18.—A petition has been filed in the probate court for the appointment of a guardian for ex-Chief Justice Sherwood, whose physical condition has been improving, but who is reported to be mentally wrecked. The sad case casts a gloom over a large circle of friends.

The Twins to Unite.

ST. PAUL, Minn., June 18.—The first earnest attempt to unite St. Paul and Minneapolis was begun Tuesday, the leaders in the movement being Archbishop Ireland, Ex-Gov. Marshall and Senator Stevens. The proposition is to call the new municipality Federal City.

A Light Sentence.

MINNEAPOLIS, Minn., June 18.—Carl Benson, the Scandia bank defaulter, who misappropriated $4,500, was sentenced by Judge Pond to forty-five days in the county jail. This light sentence was given in view of extenuating circumstances.

An Embarras Sentenced.

OMAHA, Neb., June 18.—In the criminal court John M. Campion pleaded guilty to a charge of embezzling $5,400 from the Consolidated Tank Line Company. He was sentenced to three years' imprisonment in the penitentiary.

Offered a Big Purse.

OMAHA, Neb., June 18.—A purse of $25,000 has been offered by the Magic City Athletic club for a finish fight between Slavin and Sullivan. A $10,000 bond has been filed in bank for faithful performance.

Cataract Can't Be Cured

McKinley Was Nominated For Governor of Ohio by Acclamation.

COLUMBUS, O., June 18.—The second day's proceedings of the republican state convention were opened by prayer, after which the report of the committee on credentials was presented and adopted. The committee on permanent organization reported, amid applause, the name of Gen. Asa S. Bushnell, of Clark county, for permanent chairman of the convention, and E. J. Kessinger, of Athens, for permanent secretary. Chairman Bushnell's address was brief.
